CERTIFICATION

Process by which a non-governmental agency or association validates an individual’s qualifications and knowledge in a defined functional or clinical area
Why have Certification?

- Validate individual’s qualifications
- Carries a connotation of trust, belief, and confidence
- Provide practice-related knowledge-based requirements against which an individual can be assessed
- Requires adherence to Code of Ethics, Standards of Practice

RESNA’s Credentialing Program

RESNA began administering ATP and ATS exams in 1996.

- Identify qualified providers by testing fundamental knowledge
- Set standards to measure competence, guide professional conduct
- Currently offers ATP certification, specialty certification for Seating &Mobility Specialist, RET certification under review.

Rights/Restrictions with RESNA Credential

- Voluntary certification
- Not a license - can’t practice outside of state requirements
- Use of designation ATP for successful candidates
CODE OF ETHICS

- Hold paramount the welfare of those served professionally
- Practice only in their area(s) of competence and maintain high standards
- Maintain the confidentiality of privileged information

Standards of Practice

- Set of 22 rules to govern practice of Assistive Technology service delivery
- Promotes high ethical standards
- Stresses cooperation, team building, follow-up
- Promotes collaboration
- Encourages referral to others as appropriate
- Adjudication when standards are violated

1. Individuals shall keep paramount the welfare of those served professionally.
2. Individuals shall engage in only those services that are within the scope of their competence, their level of education, experience and training, and shall recognize the limitations imposed by the extent of their personal skills and knowledge in any professional area.

3. In making determinations as to what areas of practice are within their competency, assistive technology practitioners and suppliers shall observe all applicable licensure laws, consider the qualifications for certification or other credentials offered by recognized authorities in the primary professions which comprise the field of assistive technology, and abide by all relevant standards of practice and ethical principals, including RESNA’s Code of Ethics.

4. Individuals shall not willfully misrepresent their credentials, competency, education, training and experience in both the field of assistive technology and the primary profession in which they are members. Individuals shall disclose their employer and the role they serve in the provision of assistive technology services in all forms of communication, including advertising, that refers to their certification in assistive technology.
5. Individuals shall inform consumers or their advocates of any employment affiliations, financial or professional interests that may be perceived to bias recommendations. In some cases, individuals shall decline to provide services or supplies where the conflict of interest is such that it may fairly be concluded that such affiliation or interest is likely to impair professional judgments.

6. Individuals shall use available resources to meet the consumers’ identified needs including referral to other professionals, practitioners or sources which may provide the needed product and/or service.

---

7. Individuals shall cooperate with members of other professions, where appropriate, in delivering services to consumers, and shall actively participate in the team process when the consumer's needs require such an approach.
Standards of Practice

8. Individuals shall offer an appropriate range of assistive technology services which include assessment, evaluation, trial, simulation, recommendations, delivery, fitting, training, adjustments and/or modifications and promote full participation by the consumer in each phase of service.

Standards of Practice

9. Individuals shall verify consumer's needs by using direct assessment or evaluation procedures with the consumer.

Standards of Practice

10. Individuals shall inform the consumer about all device options and funding mechanisms available regardless of finances, in the development of recommendations for assistive technology strategies.
11. Individuals shall consider future and emerging needs when developing intervention strategies and fully inform the consumer of those needs.

12. Individuals shall provide technology that minimizes consumer’s exposure to unreasonable risk. Individuals shall provide adjustments, instruction for use, or necessary modifications that minimize risk.

13. Individuals shall fully inform consumers or their advocates about all relevant aspects of the final recommendations for the provision of technology, including the financial implications, and shall not guarantee the results of any service or technology. Individuals may, however, make reasonable statements about the recommended intervention.
14. Individuals shall document, within the appropriate records, the technology evaluation, assessment, recommendations, services, or products provided and preserve confidentiality of those records, unless required by law, or unless the protection of the welfare of the person or the community requires otherwise.

15. Individuals shall endeavor, through ongoing professional development, including continuing education, to remain current on assistive technology relevant to their practice including accessibility, funding, legal or public issues, recommended practices and emerging technologies.

16. Individuals shall endeavor to institute procedures, on an on-going basis, to evaluate, promote and enhance the quality of service delivered to all consumers.
17. Individuals shall be truthful and accurate in all public statements concerning their role in the provision of all assistive technology products and services.

18. Individuals shall not discriminate in the provision of services or supplies on the basis of impairment, diagnosis, disability, race, national origin, religion, creed, gender, age, or sexual orientation.

19. Individuals shall not charge for services not rendered, nor misrepresent services delivered or products dispensed for reimbursement or any other purpose.
20. Individuals shall not engage in fraud, dishonesty or misrepresentation of any kind, or any forms of conduct or criminal activity that adversely reflects on the field of assistive technology, or the individual's ability to serve consumers professionally.

21. Individuals whose professional services are adversely affected by substance abuse or other health-related conditions shall seek professional advice, and where appropriate, voluntarily withdraw from practice.

22. Individuals shall respect the rights, knowledge, and skills of colleagues and others, accurately representing views, information, ideas and other tangible and intangible assets including copyright, patent, trademark, design contributions, and findings.
